

Jayakrishnan Nair &lt;jknair@gmail.com&gt;

---

DECISION TIME THIS AM

---

William Budigan <info@budiganlaw.com>

Mon, Jun 1, 2020 at 10:14 AM

To: Jayakrishnan Nair &lt;jknair@gmail.com&gt;, Raji Susheel &lt;rajithankam99@gmail.com&gt;

Jay:

You have to make a decision this AM. Tomorrow, if not sooner, Judge Parisien will deny your motion to vacate the $360K judgment against you and then it will be much harder to bring it again after you get the evidence you have not asked for since 12/19 and are ruining your case. You will only be left with an appeal--maybe--and the court of Appeals is so bad on these things you will not have a chance and the Supreme Court of WA only reviews about 1/2 of 1% of all Ct of Appeals civil cases. The problem with going the court of appeals route is that for a money judgment on appeal you must put up a supersedeas bond of the same amount in the beginning of the appeal ( Ermin is bringing this hearing in COA soon--put up or court dismiss the appeal) and that is possible if you have property with that much equity but the real problem is if you lose then the Guardian gets that bond money and you owe the bondsperson and either way the Guardian gets the money.

You can strike the hearing this AM and bring it another time within the year of 3/25/20. I would strike it.

What you must do THIS AM is go to a Bank of America branch that is open and order all the statements for all the 8 accounts for at least 12/1/17-12/31/18, but if these is not a very low balance on 12/1/17 go back farther to when it was low--like under @$200. If you have this for all accounts you can TRY to say that x $ from account 1 went to account2 and try to prove all this money is your own and none of it from Mom. You also need to get the same time period records from AIRb and B, Coinbase, , the HELOC to buy the condo in 2007--you must prove that these all came from you and that you made all the condo payments and expenses yourself in 2007. This takes some work on your part.

Respond to this with your plan for this AM and your decision ASAP.

Bill Budigan
206 284-5305

cannot