| 15 | | |
| 16 | On January 13, 2020, the Plaintiffs (one week after a similar motion was denied) filed an | |
| 17 | Emergency Motion and Ex Parte TRO Application (Dkt. No. 59) seeking a prohibition against | |
| 18 | taking Omana Thankamma (invalid mother of Plaintiff Jayakrishnan Nair) off life support and an | |
| 19 | order that "all decisions regarding [Omana's] medical care, until she leaves USA, shall rest | |
| 20 | solely with local liaison Mr. Suresh Muthuswamy alone." Id. at 22. The "emergency," and the | |
| 21 | basis for the renewed request, is Plaintiffs' claim that "Guardian and Harborview want to save | |
| 22 | costs of [Omana's] ICU admission by pulling her from life support to murder her." Id. at 1. | |

Ex Parte Application for TRO

The Court considers four factors in examining Plaintiffs' request for a TRO: (1) likelihood of success on the merits, (2) likelihood of irreparable harm, (3) the balance of equities, and (4) the public interest. Winter v. Natural Res. Def. Council, Inc., 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008).

The Court will not reiterate here the grounds asserted in multiple prior orders for its lack of authority to intervene in a state proceeding which Plaintiffs have yet to prove requires federal involvement. Those grounds still exist and constitute reason enough to again deny Plaintiffs' request.

9 For purposes of the current motion, suffice it to say that Plaintiffs have failed to meet the 10 first requirement for equitable relief in federal court; namely, establishing a likelihood of success on the merits of their claim. Their allegation is that Ms. Thankamma is in imminent danger of 12 being removed from life support. Nowhere in their 93 pages of supporting exhibits do Plaintiffs 13 produce a single piece of evidence that anyone is planning to do what they claim Harborview and 14 the Guardian are plotting to do. In the absence of any proof, their success of likelihood on the merits of their claim is zero. On that basis, the Court DENIES their application for an ex parte 15 TRO. 16

Moratorium on Plaintiffs' motion practice

18 The motion denied by this order represents Plaintiffs' fourth ex parte application for a 19 TRO and (including their unsuccessful "Motion to Terminate Guardianship;" Dkt. No. 8) their 20 fifth non-meritorious request for relief from this Court. Responding to Plaintiffs' attempts to involve the federal courts in their state court proceedings has required the expenditure of 22 considerable judicial resources for what has essentially become a revolving door of repetitious 23 requests and unheeded denials.
